Conti and Williams join projects team at J&S Construction

Cookeville, Tenn. – Johnny Stites, CEO of J&S Construction Company, recently announced that Rich Conti and David Williams have joined the company as senior project managers.

“In an attempt to provide the best people and projects to our clients, J&S has hired Rich and David,” said Stites “These two employees will bring experience in all areas of construction to J&S. We are excited to have them join our team. The knowledge that David and Rich will bring to J&S will be invaluable and will allow us to deliver better projects to each of our clients.”

Conti has worked in the construction industry for 45 years. He has spent the past 27 years as a project superintendent and territory coordinator for a nationally known construction company. Conti oversaw the Southeast territory and was responsible for profitability, quality control, warranties and customer relations. According to Stites, his new position with J&S will give Conti the opportunity to work more closely with J&S clients and help “delight” them.

Williams comes to J&S from Dallas, Texas, where he served as a senior project manager for the past nine years. Williams was responsible for many key projects, including a $60 million, 320,000 square-foot medical center. He has a Bachelor of Science degree in construction services from Texas A&M University.
